

The Willows

Community Psychiatric Clinic

Community Psychiatric Clinic drew on their long history of working with Common Ground when they decided to build the Willows. The project, operated in conjunction with the University of Washington's Parent Child Advocacy Program, serves homeless families who face multiple challenges.

- 16 units of transitional housing for low-income families with children
- New construction
- $2.57 million total development cost
- Major funding: HOME, WA State HTF
- Designed by Kovalenko Hale Architects
- Built by Marpac Construction
- Completed in 2005